The Florida Division of Emergency Management recognizes the important role our private sector partners play in all phases of emergency management. The 2015 Public-Private Partnership Summit theme “Identifying the Win-Win through Public-Private Partnerships” will focus on ways for the private sector and emergency management to partner. This year’s event will follow the same format as the 2014 PPP Summit. Attendees will be given opportunities for networking and strategic discussions on ways to highlight public-private partnerships before, during, and after a disaster. The 2014 PPP Summit roundtable videos can be found on YouTube, search FDEM-FL Get a Plan. Additional information on the location, registration and the agenda will be provided over the next few weeks.
